CITY ITEMS.
CRAWFORD'S wish to place in the homes of the poor people of St. Louis the daily of the far-famed Steel Mastic Cooking Range, without an equal in this wide world. They say they won't rest until they do it. This house has for long been considered one of the best in the city in putting in large numbers of these great necessities to solid comfort, contentment and happiness. They might better be called to a public monument than many who now have one. Just think of it, a small payment down and the rest in easy installments. TEN CENTS A DAY, just the price of a very poor ten minutes' waiting. You don't yourself such a miserable luxury for the sake of the comfort of yourself, wife and children? Of course not. You will be a man and not a mouse, and do it at once! Crawford's can put up in good shape 200 ranges a day. Try them, and at once! No interest charged. Factory prices.

JUDGMENT AGAINST DENNEY.
Gussie Walters Awarded $200 Damages by Jury.

The suit of Gussie Walters against J. Denney, of No. 1901 O'Fallon street, for $200 damages, for injuries alleged to have been sustained August 23, last, by a chair falling from a shed on the premises occupied by Mr. Denney, was tried in Justice Hamilton's court yesterday, and resulted in a judgment against the defendant for $200.

The plaintiff was passing Mr. Denney's place in a wagon, and happened to be near the shed from which the chair fell. Mr. Denney claimed not to know anything about the chair being on the shed.

DISGUISED HERSELF TO RECOVER CHILD.

Mrs. Belle Copeman Finds Her Daughter, Pearl, in Home of Husband's Attorney.

Mrs. Belle Copeman, of No. 1115 Pine street, recovered her daughter, Pearl, at the home of Percival Adams, No. 259 Benton street, Thursday afternoon. This another chapter has been added to the marital troubles of Charles Copeman and his wife, Bella, who conducts a rooming house at No. 1115 Pine street. Pearl Copeman, who is 7 years old, was picked up by her father Thursday evening, October 15, as she was returning from the Franklin School.

To recover the child, Mrs. Copeman found it necessary to assume male attire. Clad in coat and trousers, her face blackened to suggest a cropped beard, and wearing a large slouch hat, set well back on her head to cover a heavy suit of hair, she started forth. Mrs. Copeman did not go alone on her mission. After Pearl was taken from her, by her husband, who notified her parents, who live at Carrollton, Ill., of the fact. Her two brothers, William and Thomas Pike, came to St. Louis and promised to assist the mother in her search for her daughter. They succeeded in locating Pearl at No. 259 Benton street, the home of Percival Adams, the attorney for Charles Copeman, against whom his wife has filed suit for divorce.

Just before Mrs. Copeman and her brother Thomas reached the Adams home they separated. She went to the rear of the house through an alley, while her brother rang the bell at the front door. Mrs. Adams answered the bell and while she was talking to Pike the mother entered the house at the rear, took her child and rushed out.

In a few moments Mrs. Adams discovered she had been tricked and gave the alarm. A crowd congregated and started in pursuit of the two men, as it was supposed, that had kidnapped little Pearl. The mother and her brother, however, distanced their pursuers and, boarding a Jefferson avenue car, were soon beyond the reach of the crowd.

Thomas Pike returned to No. 1115 Pine street immediately. Mrs. Copeman and Pearl went to the home of friends, where she remained until noon yesterday. Mrs. Copeman was seen at her home. In boarding the Jefferson avenue car she had fallen on the platform and injured herself. Besides the bruises, the intense strain had affected her nerves and forced her to bed.

"I'm better now," she said, "and as I would like to see my little girl, I am happy. I am sure I will not let her go from me now, but she is with friends and in safe hands."

Percival Adams applied at the office of Chief of Police Campbell to ascertain whether he would assist in recovering the child. The chief declined any assistance, saying the mother had the right to take the child. It is probable that an application will be made to the court in which the divorce suit is pending for an order against the mother for the possession of the child.

Gustave Hyson, Assisted by Pedestrians, Captured Footpad.

Gustave Hyson of No. 577 Hebert street captured a negro highwayman, who attempted to hold him up, near his home yesterday morning. William Brown is the name the negro gave at the police station at Mermod & Jaccard's, Broadway and Locust, where he was sworn out. Hyson was on his way home about 6 o'clock and almost within sight of his home, when he was suddenly confronted by STOLE WAGON AND FISH.

Tom McGuire and Garrett Collins Under Arrest.

Tom McGuire and Garrett Collins, who live near Twenty-second street and Cass avenue, were arrested yesterday on a warrant charging them with grand larceny. It is alleged that they stole a horse and wagon and a barrel of fish in the morning of Thursday night when they were out on bail from Mrs. Mary Carroll of No. 141 North Twenty-second street.

On Thursday night when Mrs. Carroll went to bed she left a barrel of fish in her wagon, which was parked in front of her home. She was awakened by the noise of the wagon being moved. She went out and found the wagon and the fish gone. She called the police and they arrested McGuire and Collins.

ODD FELLOW MISSING.

S. L. Wainwright, While Traveling for Health, Disappears.

Superintendent of the Morgue Ambusher received a letter yesterday from S. L. Wainwright, requesting information of S. L. Wainwright, who is in the land of the missing. Wainwright was a member of the I. O. O. F. lodge, which is also interested in the search.

Wainwright's home is in Kansas, but he has been traveling for the last six months and has been traveling for his health. He was last seen in St. Louis, where he remained a few weeks, and departed, saying he was going to El Paso, Tex., by way of St. Louis. That was on October 16. Since then nothing has been heard of him. A few days ago his El Paso friends wrote to Kansas asking why he did not come. It was then discovered that he had dropped out of sight and the search was begun.

Nothing has been heard of him here. The police have been unable to find any trace of him.

AGREE TO LYNCH HORSE THIEVES.

St. Louis County Farmers Organize for Protection and Will Patrol All Roads.

CLOSE WATCH ON STRANGERS.

Persons Driving Through County Must Explain Their Business—Guards Carry Winches, Ropes and Ropes.

"Halt! advance and give an explanation of your presence here! Where did you get that horse you are driving?" This is the demand that a stranger driving or riding along the principal thoroughfares of St. Louis County after night in the next few weeks may expect to receive.

Aroused by numerous depredations that have been committed in the last few weeks by horse thieves, the county farmers have banded together, and agreed to take turns about at night at patrolling the principal thoroughfares of the county. The association was secretly formed at Clayton Thursday evening.

Secrecy was the watchword of the meeting, as the thirty citizens who signed the agreement to act as night guards have agreed to lynch the first horse thief they catch, and for that reason they do not want their names made public. Only one of them, F. W. Sanguinet, of Clayton, would consent to discuss the matter yesterday. "The farmers of the county are in earnest in this matter," said Mr. Sanguinet. "They have been aroused by the boldness and frequency of these thieves, and are determined that they must stop. Fifteen of the men will go on patrol to-night, the other fifteen to-morrow night, and so on, alternately, until the outrages are stopped. And we bettle any horse thief if he should happen to fall into the hands of any of these men."

FIVE WORKMEN HAVE A FALL.

Scaffold Breaks, but Only One Man Is Hurt.

The many persons in the vicinity of the new St. Louis Trust Company's building, in course of construction at Fourth and Locust streets, were startled yesterday afternoon by a crash and the sound of cracking timbers. A scaffold over which five marble workers were plying their trade, had given way, precipitating the men to the ground.

The fall was about 15 feet, and none of the workmen were seriously hurt, but John Dugan of No. 127 Washington avenue, suffered a sprained ankle. He was removed to the City Hospital. Five weeks ago a thirty-foot granite column snapped two while being hoisted at this same building. No one was injured.

RULING ON SMOKE NUISANCE.
Judgment Secured for $1,500 Damages From Smoke.

Chicago, Oct. 26.—A verdict which, it is thought, will result either in endless litigation or in the abatement of the smoke nuisance, and which, if sustained by the Supreme court, will be a precedent for decisions in other smoke-clouded cities, was rendered to-day in the Circuit Court. Lawyers Edgar A. Walker and Elmer R. Davis, having filed in the twelfth story of the association building, by the verdict, were awarded $1,500 damages from the New York Life building.

NEW DIAMOND IMITATIONS.

Unique Designs in Brooches, Tiaras and Necklaces for the Horse Show.

One of the most exquisite collections of Diamond Brooches, Tiaras, Crowns, Collar-brooches and Necklaces ever made, shown by the Mermod & Jaccard Jewelry Co., Broadway and Locust. It is not alone in the brilliancy and beauty of the diamonds, which are imported direct by the firm, but in the artistic taste of the designers, which makes the collection a choice. A number of diamond and pearl ornaments have been designed especially for the Horse Show, and every one is welcome to call and inspect them.

CONTROVERSY WAITS ON LONG.

Armor Plate Question Cannot Be Settled Till He Returns.

Washington, Oct. 26.—The adjustment of the controversy between the Navy Department and the armor plate companies over the price of armor plate probably will go over until after the return of Secretary Long from the West, as there is no prospect of being able to dispose of the matter before his departure.

This Western trip probably will consume the remainder of the Secretary's will go to Massachusetts to vote.

Came Near Dying.

"For three days and nights I suffered agonies unfeigned from an attack of cholera morbus brought on by eating cold water," says M. E. Lowther, clerk of the District Court, Centerville, Ia. "I thought I should surely die, and tried a dozen different medicines, but all to no purpose. I sent for a bottle of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, and three doses relieved me entirely. I went to sleep and woke up in ten minutes. On awakening a few hours ago I felt so gratified that the first work I do on going back to the office is to write to the manufacturers of this remedy and offer them my grateful thanks and say, 'God bless you and the splendid medicine you make.'—Adv."
